

RBGE Archives
The McNab Scrapbooks

James McNab (1810-1878) was Head Gardener at the Royal Botanic Garden Edinburgh between 1849 and his death in 1878. Two of his 'scrapbooks' are held in the archives at RBGE – inside are various newspaper cuttings, letters, paintings and ephemera that relate to his life and that of his father's – William McNab (1780-1848) who held the position of Head Gardener at RBGE prior to his son, between 1810 and 1848.

What follows below is a listing of the contents of the two scrapbooks, produced by library volunteers Jane, Paul and Ruth between 2008 and 2016.

pp.1.126,127

- ?1814. Account of expedition (?where), plus other documents relating to trips by William McNab(?), plus letter regarding New York. Includes detailed bill of his preliminary travels round London – mainly by ‘omnibus’! Dated 1835 so presumably must be a subsequent trip.

p.1.130

- 1843. Letter from John Claudius Loudon (expert on architecture, landscape gardening, etc) regarding declining some honour (v. diff to read) [see later obituary on p.132]. Also his signature which has been cut and pasted from another document.

- 1840. Letter (no sig) with drawing of portable greenhouse – sort of Wardian case
- 1843. Letter with illegible signature from the Patent Office referring to ‘Canker worms of Experimental Garden’ from North America. Brad...???

p.1.133

- Letter from Robert Fortune [another one on p.137]

(from this point collected letters seem to be to Robert not William - ?check this?)

p.1.134

- two letters, 2nd from Joseph Dalton Hooker

p.1.135

- Possibly 1840 (difficult to read). Letter from Joseph Paxton at Chatsworth. He is after copy for his new publication, an alternative to the ‘vile trash’ (!) of the Gardener’s Gazette.

p.1.137

- Small article on Kew appointments

pp.1.138, 139

- c1850s – Lindley – very detailed articles on RBGE botanical museum. Mentions the fossil tree. N.b. Robert Matheson, the Palm House architect is involved. Also see McNab’s own contributions. Included Dracaenas (Dragon’s Blood trees)

pp.1.140-142

- Notes and articles relating to James McNab's trip to the United States of America

p.1.141

- Crossed letter addressed to 'J McNab – Experimental Gardener' – though pamphlet regarding the United States of America trip calls him Herbarium Curator. Envelope stamped Liverpool
